TORONTO TIDINGS

Messrs. George Bell, Nicholas Gura and William Quigley, of Oshawa, were up for the Frat Social on February 16th, and spent Sunday with friends here.

It was reported that Mrs. George Elliott, of Long Branch, had undergone an operation at St. Joseph's Hospital, but the report was a little untrue. The writer found Mrs. Elliott looking perfectly normal. Her father is at the above named hospital and not at Newmarket.

The Frats staged a jolly Valentine party on February 16th, and the fair crowd that turned out report a good time.

In the list of names of those who had helped in the testimonial to the late Mrs. A. W. Mason, in regard to her work at the West End Sunday School, the names of Messrs. Robert R. Ensminger and Henry White were unintentionally omitted. These two are at our Sunday School almost every Sunday.

Our erstwhile young friend, Mr. George Bell had hardly returned from a brief sojourn at Woodstock, when he got a call from the Oshawa Daily Times to go down and help on its linotype machines, and is now working in that city, but he does not know yet whether his job is permanent or temporary.

Mr. H. W. Roberts occupied the pulpit of our church on February 17th, and gave an address on the "Life and Death of King Herod." Miss Annabel Thomson gracefully rendered an appropriate hymn entitled "Jesus, Master, whom I Serve."

February 16th, was the seventy-eighth birthday of our grand old man, Mr. A. W. Mason, and to fittingly observe the day, his only daughter, Mrs. John K. Mishaw, invited him to a happy family gathering at her cosy home on Tyrrell Avenue. Here a score or so gave "Grandpa Ambrose" the "once over" in a way that made him feel like a lad of thirty. His daughter and son, Howard, presented him with an exquisite overcoat of the King Edward style, and behold, how tony he now sports about!

After the service at our West End Sunday School was over, on February 17th, Superintendent Fred Terrell came forward and spoke a few words of appreciation of Mr. A. W. Mason, who still sits in his accustomed chair, and called for a shower of congratulations. The response was a march past "Grandpa," with a vigorous and warm handshake of our good old friend.

Mrs. George Duncan and her mother-in-law, of Dundalk, were guests of the former's cousins at "Mora Glen," on February 19th, at which place a goodly group of relatives and friends foregathered the evening previous in honor of the visitors.

On February 16th, Miss Florence Bagby left for her parents' home in Burks Falls, for a two-weeks' sojourn. As she has been working overtime of late, we trust she has benefited much by this rest.

Mrs. Arthur Bowen, of Cookstown, is, at time of writing, still in this city, with her aged mother and other relatives, though she has not obtained work yet. She and her niece, Miss Averall, were at our service on February 17th.

Mr. H. W. Roberts gave a very good address at our Epworth League on February 20th.

Mrs. William W. Scott left on February 20th, for an indefinite visit to her parents in Wellandport. In the meantime, Billie is looking after the furnace and other household duties.

Mr. Henry White has sold his old car and bought a new classy Chevrolet sedan, which he drives about with an air of dignity.

WATERLOO WEE BITS

One evening recently, a goodly number of our young people, bent on fun and excitement, went out to enjoy some frolic in the snow and on the slides. In this bunch were the Misses Beverly Moynihan and Viola Johnston and Otto Carl Rudenske, a friend of Miss Moynihan and well known among the deaf here. They all certainly had a hilarious time and to add color and excitement to the pastime, Mr. Rudenske hooked on his father's old nag to a rickety-rackety bobsleigh and drove the pleasure revelers far out in the open wastes, where they had many a spill into the ruts or ravines, with each one trying to throw off the other, and on their return to the solacing fireside of the Moynihan home, they had ravenous appetites and rose-like complexions.

Mr. Lewis M. Patterson, of Galt, was up again for tea at the Moynihan's on February 17th. His trips to and fro between these two cities are becoming more frequent, all because there's a "reason."

Mrs. John A. Moynihan and daughter, Beverly, were over in Kitchener one day lately, and had tea with Mr. and Thomas S. Williams.

LONDON LEAVES

Mrs. Ben. Spindler is enjoying a month's holiday, visiting her son and other relatives and friends in Walkerville, Detroit and Chicago.

The many friends of Mrs. John Pincombe, who is still in Victoria Hospital, will be pleased to hear that her condition shows slight improvement, though far from satisfactory.

Mr. A. H. Cowan resumed his duties in the post office here on February 12th, after an enforced lay-off of two weeks, due to blood poison in his right hand.

Mr. Merton McMurray went out to Ingersoll to assist his pal, Mr. Russell Groves, cut wood for a while lately. These two were week-end visitors here over February 9th.

Messrs. George Pepper and Herbert Wilson are around again, after being laid up with the "flu," which seems to have run its course in this city.

We are pleased to say that Mrs. G. A. W. Gustin is so much improved at time of writing, as to be able to go out for a little while daily.

Mrs. John Fisher was recently out for a brief visit to Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Munroe in St. Thomas.

There was an attendance of fourteen at the service on February 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Munroe in St. Thomas. Mr. A. H. Cowan went down from here to conduct the service and gave a very splendid address. The freewill offering was excellent.

At time of writing, Mrs. David Dark is laid up at her home, but a speedy recovery is hoped for by her friends.

Mrs. W. H. Gould, Jr., was visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Smalldon and other acquaintances in St. Thomas, on February 17th, and reports a good time.

Mr. Merton McMurray is the defense player on the Dicken Corners hockey team of the Oxford Hockey League and at present this team is at the top of the League.

We sympathize with Mrs. Oliver Nahrgang, of New Dundee, on the death of her uncle, Mr. William Philimore, who died in this city, on February 16th, and was buried in the Bayham Cemetery, on February 18th.

Mr. Herbert Wilson left on February 19th, for a few days' business trip to Detroit.

Mr. W. J. Smalldon, of St. Thomas, has got rid of his old Ford coupe and now sports a new Chevrolet coupe and what a happy family the Smalldon family are as they run about in class style.

Owing to impaired health, Mr. John Noyes, of Denfield, has engaged Mr. Stanley Youngs, of this city, to assist with his farm work and Stanley seems to like it.

Mr. David Dark had the misfortune to slip on the icy roadway as he alighted from an Oxford Street car, while on his way to work at the McClary foundry and severely hurt his head, which rendered him unconscious for awhile, but he is all right now.

Mr. George Moore was laid-off for at least a week lately, owing to slack work at the McClary's tin shop, and to kill time he and Mr. W. H. Gould, Jr., took a rundown to see old friends in St. Thomas on February 20th.

GENERAL GLEANINGS

Mr. Daniel W. Fleming, late of Craigleith, is now working near Dublin, between Mitchell and Seaforth, for Mr. Frank Finnigan.

Mrs. William Russell Smith, of Grimsby, has learned that the JOURNAL is a very newsy weekly so sends in her subscription. Mrs. Smith will be remembered by her old schoolmates as Miss Cora Pierce, of Paris. Other subscriptions this week are from Messrs. Robert J. Ensminger and John Wicks, of Toronto.

There was a jolly gathering of about twenty-five of the deaf at the home of Willie Hackings in Hamilton recently, to commemorate Willie's natal day and a very pleasant time was spent by all and Mr. Hackings was roundly congratulated.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Crozier, of Springvale, were recently in Galt, visiting Mr. Henry Clements, with whom they had a pleasant time.

Mr. and Mrs. George Crozier, of Springvale, gave a grand old-fashioned goose dinner at their home on February 10th, and what a reminiscence it brought forth of the days of yore when such happy gatherings were the topics of the day. Among the guests present were the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. D. Crozier, and also several relatives of Mrs. George Crozier.

A little daughter was born on January 22d, to Mr. and Mrs. John Blue, of Cambridge, Mass. The mother is a sister of Miss Reta Boss and this is Reta's first niece, which bears the name of Alice Blue, after its grandmother.

Mr. Robert Brackenborough, of Depot Harbor, contemplates spending a while with relatives in Collingwood, and possibly in Toronto, during the month of March, to rest up prior to the opening of navigation on the Georgian Bay and the Muskoka Lakes.

The speakers who go out to speak in various parts of Ontario under the auspices of the Ontario Mission during March are Wesley Ellis to Aurora on the 10th, H. E. Grooms to Brantford on the 17th, H. J. Lloyd to Hamilton on the 24th, W. R. Watt to Kitchener on the 24th, A. H. Jaffray to London on the 24th, H. E. Grooms to Oshawa on the 10th, and John Fisher to St. Thomas on the 10th.

Mr. John Taylor, of Singhampton, has been enjoying many a long tramp lately on his snowshoes over the crusted surface of four feet of snow. In this way he surveyed his extensive timber limits a mile or so from that village. Of this valuable forest land, he has now decided to sell a part for a good consideration.

Many of our hockey fans who attended the exciting games of a year gone by will remember that erstwhile player, John Brackenborough, youngest brother of our Robert Brackenborough, of Depot Harbor, and will regret to hear he is not in the best of health just now. He is now living over the boundary, but was home for a holiday last June. He lost the sight of one eye in one of the most exciting games he ever played in. We hope his health will return soon.

HAZLETON, PA.

The Hazleton Club for the Deaf held its fourth annual banquet at the Altamont, on Saturday night, February 16th, when fifty guests from this city and vicinity assembled.

John C. Reinmiller, of Hazleton, as the toastmaster, and the honorary guest of the evening was Edwin C. Ritchie, of F. J. Ing, Pa., who is head of the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf. Rev. Henry J. Pulver offered the invocation.

The motto printed on the souvenir programs for the banquet was: "A great thing is a great book, but a greater thing than all is the talk of a great man."—Disraeli.

Those who responded to the call of the toastmaster were Michael Watrol, of Shamokin; John Harrington, of Scranton; T. Williams, of Summit Hill; John Besuasparis, of Shenandoah; Joseph La Rocco, of Hazleton; and Elmer Ebby, of Reading, Pa.

The committee in charge of the banquet was composed of John M. Stauffer, chairman; Luther Peters, Joseph La Rocco, Michael Kuchar, Earl Gerhard, and Sol. M. Joseph, of Hazleton, Pa.

The officers of the Hazleton Club for the Deaf are: President, John C. Reinmiller; Vice-President, Luther Peters; Secretary, Michael Kuchar; Treasurer, Joseph La Rocco; Sergeant-at-Arms, George Kopeks.

The Hazleton Society for the Deaf, which is affiliated with the Pennsylvania Society for the Advancement of the Deaf, plans to extend an invitation to the State convention of that organization to meet in Hazleton, Pa., in 1930.

Wilksburg, Pa.

At the W. S. C., Wilksburg, Valentine Day, was celebrated the day after. It brought together a large gathering of young and old. Hearts were trumps throughout the evening and the fun was fast and furious. There were contests in various forms and everybody participated, showing that affairs of the heart still held a fascinating interest.

One game entitled, "To My Sweetheart," was won by Miss Doris Myers. The prize, a heart shaped silk sofa cushion, fashioned and donated by Mrs. Walter Zelch, was worth contesting for. Another game, "Heart-Hunt," was won by J. L. Friend. This was a fine cake made in the shape of a heart. So the winner was able to eat his heart.

The straw contest was won by Mrs. Dean Tussing. She drew the greatest number of hearts, but no wonder for all hearts were hers anyhow. The heart race on the wire went to Miss Elizabeth Eber. Prize was a box of candy hearts. Heart race on the floor was taken by Charles McArthur, a box of Pearl cookies. These winners were generous and distributed their sweet hearts among the contestants in the races.

The Postoffice—postmaster, Mr. Grimm, rigged out as Uncle Sam—did a rushing business in receiving and distributing valentines, chiefly of the comic variety.

Washington's Birthday was also celebrated at the same place, the day after. The celebration consisted of story telling, relating to Washington. This kept the large company on the "qui vive" until a late hour. The first prize, an original story, went to Mr. W. McK. Stewart. This was the book "We," by Lindbergh. The second prize was won by Mr. Teitelbaum and this was a jar of mixed candies. No doubt, he shared the sweets with his "Sweetie."

George Blackhall, our local business man, is recovering from an operation at the hospital for abscess in the axilla caused by an infection, which he suffered a while ago. He was at the club Saturday, but his arm is still too sore to use at his work.

Mrs. Dean Tussing has been living as a "grass widow" for some time, while Mr. Tussing is making secure a job in Detroit. She expects, however, to join her husband and settle their household affairs there about the first of March. Wilksburgers will miss this genial couple at their meetings. We wish them abundant success and happiness in their new location.

Some recent visitors in Wilksburg were Rev. J. M. Koehler, who took dinner with Superintendent Manning at the school and called on the Teegardens, Miss Winifred Brunner, of Morgantown, W. Va.; Miss Dorothy Seth, of Mt. Oliver, an assistant at the South Side Hospital; Miss Mary Winslow, also of the South Side; and Miss Marie Pryle. These latter were disappointed when they called at the club rooms, to find no entertainment that evening. They enjoyed the social chatter of those who were present, however.

George Furia, of Duquesne, who attends services at the First Presbyterian Church, Wilksburg, announced he had secured the position of janitor at the Duquesne public school and says it is a man's job. We are glad he is "getting on" like that.

Quite a number of Wilksburgers attended the Pittsburgh Frat banquet and quite a few others were disappointed not being able to go, especially when it was reported it was one swell affair.

Mr. Vincent Dunn is still on the job raising funds for the De l'Epee Memorial. His latest stunt was the movie picture presentation at the W. S. C. room, February 17th. Mr. Dunn's friend and neighbor, Mr. W. Yanaga, operated the machine and the pictures they presented were interesting and varied, taking altogether an hour and a half for presentation. Included in the reels was one of Mr. McMaster giving his old-time stories in pantomime, and one of Mr. Teegarden and surroundings out at Lake Waccabuc, N. Y. The latter was rather crude and it was Mr. Dunn's first attempt at such work, and he had difficulty operating the new machine. He will do it properly the next time.

There was quite an audience present, including a delegation from the Edgewood School, and the passing of the hat at the conclusion yielded $9.25, and rounded out a clear $100 that Mr. Dunn has raised for the De l'Epee fund.

We learn that Editor Hodgson is now away on his annual Caribbean cruise in quest of health and renewed youth. That he may find in this pleasant relaxation both health and youth in greatest abundance is, no doubt, the prayer of the numerous friends he has served so faithfully through more than fifty years of editorial stimulus.

Ohio Alumni Association Questionnaire

In 1927, the Ohio Deaf-Mute Alumni Association sent out the following letter and questionnaire to about 4000 deaf people:—

The Ohio Deaf-Mute Alumni Association is now taking a very active interest in the future happiness and welfare of the coming generations of deaf children, particularly respecting their education and instruction. The control of the deaf institutions of the State has just been successfully legislated away from the Department of Welfare to the Department of Education.

This is the first step necessary to bring about some mutual advantages for deaf pupils.

With this transfer, it is very probable that new improved methods of instruction will be offered or suggested, and at least some change is hoped for, which will result in an increase in efficiency.

Too long has the education of the deaf been directed, controlled and influenced almost completely by hearing persons.

Not that we desire to case any aspersions on the good intentions of the theorists in this field of education, but we do know that despite our limited mental facilities, we have pages from the practical book of experience, that if studied and considered, should be of great practical benefit to the present instructors for the primary benefit of all unfortunate deaf-mutes yet to be instructed. There are very few among us who have reached a place of political power or sufficiently recognized educational attainments that the single voice of the few can be heard against the great mass of powerful theoretical instructors. For that reason it is very important that we give a general expression of our ideas as a mass.

The enclosed questionnaire will enable your leaders not only to find out your ideas on these subjects, but to present actual proof of the conclusions reached from your ideas.

We desire to represent you with your ideas, not to represent you with our ideas.

If you have any love, affection, regard or sympathy for another similarly afflicted, then immediately fill out the enclosed questionnaire and return it at once.

Did your deafness occur before learning to speak or after learning to speak?

Where did you receive your education?

By what method were you educated?

When was education completed?

Are you engaged in the business world?

(a) Number of years.....

(b) Occupation.....

Have you continued to use speech since the completion of your education?

(a) To what extent with hearing people?

(b) To what extent with deaf people?

How much reliance do you place upon lip-reading or upon speech reading?

Do you find it satisfactory or unsatisfactory?

From your own advantages, mistakes and experience, what recommendations have you to make relative to instructing the deaf-mute child?

What, in your opinion, is your most valuable practical means of communication?

The replies came in from nearly 50% of what was sent out. With the replies on hand, this office of the president of the Ohio Deaf-Mute Alumni Association started to make a cross reference and analysis of the data obtained, in order to secure actual proof of the conclusions reached from the replies.

To date, very little success on complete summarization has been made, owing to lack of clerical assistance and help of trained survey analysts. It has been a very long and tedious task even to gather the principal data along. But sufficient data has proven that most of the deaf, who replied in their own handwriting, showed up some needed remedies to warrant the Association to work out a constructive program for their benefit.

Accordingly, this office had a legislative bill drawn up as follows:—

BE IT ENACTED BY THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE STATE OF OHIO:—

SECTION I

There is hereby created in the Department of Education a division thereof to be known as "Department of Education, Division of the Deaf."

SECTION II

The Director of the Department of Education shall appoint a person familiar with the problems of the deaf of the state to have charge of said division of the deaf and to be known as "Commissioner of the Deaf," who shall devote his entire time to the special attention of the problems confronting the deaf people of the State of Ohio with respect to facilities and fitness for the deaf with employers; to gather and collect statistics concerning the deaf, of value in carrying out the purposes of this Act, and to promote the best interests of the deaf of the State. He shall likewise study the present methods of education established for the deaf, with a view to advising and assisting in co-ordinating the educational efforts to fit the deaf for employment and labor according to their capacities, and report semi-annually thereon to the Director of the Department of Education.

SECTION III

The Director of Education shall appoint such assistants, as in his discretion shall be necessary to the Commissioner of the Deaf in the proper performance of his duties.

SECTION IV

Compensation for the personnel of the Division of the Deaf shall be in such amount as is ordered and determined by the Director of Education, in no event, however, to be less than Three Thousand Dollars for the Commissioner of the Deaf, nor in excess of Five Thousand Dollars in the aggregate for the entire personnel, together with such reasonable expenses incurred by the personnel and approved by the Director of Education.

The bill in question was introduced in Ohio Legislature January 22, 1929, by Senator V. D. Emmons. It is now known as Senate Bill No. 71. The next day the Legislature reported it out to the Finance Committee and instructed it to come through the Educational Committee.

So the matter now rests for the present and the argument for the above bill will be made by the legal representatives of the president's office.

In order to have the interests of the deaf in the State properly represented and all information concerning the educational, industrial phases of the adult deaf, as well as their shortcomings and good points properly explained and presented to these committees in the Legislature, and to give this office the necessary guidance in the campaign toward the betterment of the whole problems relating to the deaf, it has been necessary to obtain the services of two experienced legislators to work for us.

At same time, there are other bills presented in the Legislature, which affect the deaf in various ways, such as licensing drivers of automobiles, charging the parents of deaf children for boarding in the State school, removing State hindery to the State prison, and departmental improvements, etc. These related bills are being attended with vigorous plans of action by the association and the deaf of the State.

The main purpose of this letter is to give the deaf readers the correct situation of the developments in the State, and to give some readers a chance to offer any assistance toward our attainment for the bettering of the deaf as a class.

Yours very truly

Ohio Deaf-Mute Alumni Association

K. B. Ayers,

President.

ST. LOUIS

Charles Wolff, a lifelong resident of this city and well known nationally among the deaf, died on the 17th, inst. The deceased had been confined at home and in a hospital for several weeks past, and an operation was performed late on the 16th. The patient was too weak to rally from the shock and passed away the next day. A brother and nephew are the sole survivors of the family. Interment was strictly private. Two of the local Frat division were selected as pallbearers.

Charles Fry, of this city, was hit by an auto recently, that made a sudden turn as he was crossing the street to a Frat meeting and knocked down, ere the car stopped. He was laid up for several weeks, due to bruises, but seems to have suffered no permanent injury. The owner of the car having no insurance, Charles has started out gunning for him with the assistance of a lawyer, and hopes to collect enough to recompense him for the lost cuticle and wages while laid up.

Among the items that escaped recording in past letters was the Christmas celebration of the Frats, when the local hard-ups among the deaf were remembered with something to chase away the blues during the holidays; also the New Year party of the Gallaudet Club, an annual institution that lasts from New Year's eve till late the day after. A good time was had at both affairs.

The big affair of the social season among the locals was the annual mask ball of the St. Louis Division of the Frats. Some four hundred and fifty odd tickets were taken in at the door. The crowd was augmented by a group from Kansas City and Fulton, and served as a reunion of old friends and meeting new ones. The judges had the usual hard time selecting the winners from the various costumes, but at last fourteen were elected to get the prizes of cash money. Among the winners, who were deaf, were Messrs. Gable, Behr, Gilmore, Crossen, Lickfield, Misses Bachman and Stack and Mrs. Cratin with the children of the Roeders and Bueltmans.

We regret to record the death of Mrs. Hattie Deem, who died suddenly on New Year's Day, having been ill for some time past. The deceased was well known for her good works, having long been a member of the Woman's Guild of St. Thomas Mission, and eager to help in whatever would assist the deaf of her adopted city. She formerly lived in Jackson, Miss., and came to St. Louis with her two daughters, both hearing, one of whom became a teacher in the local Gallaudet School. Her daughters have the sincere sympathy of all their deaf and hearing friends.

We have to record another death when the mother of Miss Mary Georgopoulos died after an illness of some duration. She has the sympathy of all her friends in this her hour of sorrow.

The Woman's Guild of St. Thomas Mission gave an oyster supper and grab-bag social at the Tuttle Memorial on the 3d. Sandwiches and a buffet lunch were served. Games were played and an enjoyable time had by those attending. The profits went to the Woman's Guild of the Mission.

The Home Fund of Missouri was increased somewhat with the profits of the annual ball given by the St. Louis Chapter on January 19th. The attendance was not what it could have been, due doubtless to the date being too near Christmas and its attendant bills. However, a fair-sized crowd as present.

Mr. James Quinn, latest of Denver, Colorado, was in town for a short stay, provided he could find employment as a linotyper. Should nothing develop in his line, he intends moving to more promising fields. According to the deaf here employed in the art preservative of arts, the trade was never so dull as at present.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Phillips, of Indianapolis, took in the Frats ball, and stayed for a week-end visit with the Arnos.

Portland, Oregon

Mr. McClain, a deaf Oregon farmer, was in a Portland hospital recently for a minor operation. During his confinement one of his sisters was with him part of the time. After leaving the hospital, Mr. McClain left for Aberdeen, Wash., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Frank Emerick. The latter is a sister of Mr. McClain. He will rest up there awhile before returning to his farm.

About fifteen young people were invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Cooke, where a surprise party was given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. H. Greenwood, on Saturday night, February 16th. The party was a wedding shower, at which many useful gifts were given the newlyweds.

About forty deaf and as many hearing people attended the Anniversary Service held on Sunday, February 17th, at the Hope Lutheran Church for the Deaf. Three years ago the church was dedicated. The anniversary was observed by a special service. Rev. F. Sylvester, President of Concordia College, preached an interesting sermon.

Rev. Eickmann, who is pastor, interpreted for the deaf. After the service fine refreshments were served by the lady members of the church.

Mrs. Mary Scanlan, mother of Mrs. C. H. Linde, died recently. Mrs. Scanlan was a great friend of the deaf, and during the Oregon Association of Deaf convention last September, when the matter of pure oral teaching in deaf schools came up at the session, Mrs. Scanlan took keen interest in the matter, even going to the day schools to investigate.

The masquerade party under the auspices of the Portland Frats, held Saturday night, February 28th, was a complete success. About 100 enjoyed the event. Mrs. Charles Lynch, of Salem, Ore., won first prize which was pretty pink costume. Mrs. J. O. Reichle took second prize, dressed in an Indian costume. Miss Tussing won third prize as a little school girl. Other prizes went to the men as follows: Mr. W. S. Root, of Seattle, for first; Mr. Van Eman, second; Mr. A. W. Wright, of Seattle, funniest man. After refreshments were served, games were played, and a ham and chicken were raffled off. Those who carried the lucky numbers were Mr. Sharp, of Gresham, who won the ham. Mrs. W. Johnson held the number which won the chicken. Visitors from out of town who attended the mask were Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Wright, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Root, of Seattle, Wash., Mr. and Mrs. Sharp, of Gresham, Ore.; Miss L. Valentine, Miss M. Finch, Miss Matthews, Mrs. T. A. Lindstrom, Mrs. M. Werner, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lynch, all of Salem, Ore. All left at midnight, well satisfied a good time was had. The event was captained by Mr. Charles Lynch.

The ladies of the S. F. L. Club are rolling their sleeves up for a big time at the W. O. W. Temple, Saturday night, March 30th. This will be on Easter party. Mrs. A. Kautz is chairman. All welcome.

Second Annual Basketball Tournament of the Eastern Schools for the Deaf

The second annual basketball tournament of the eastern schools for the deaf was held in Frederick, Md., on February 22d and 23d, with the Maryland State school playing host to the visiting teams.

Six teams participated in the tourney, representing six States, viz:—American School for the Deaf, Hartford, Ct.—J. W. Bouchard, coach. Pennsylvania Institute for the Deaf, Mt. Airy, Pa.—G. W. Harlow, coach; B. Pollack, manager.

Virginia School for the Deaf, Staunton, Va.—L. C. Lewellyn, coach; Lindholm, manager. Maryland State School for the Deaf, Frederick, Md.—H. G. Benson, athletic director; James McVernon, assistant coach.

New Jersey School for the Deaf, Trenton, N. J.—F. A. Moore, coach.

Arriving in Frederick on Thursday, February 21st, the visiting teams were warmly welcomed by Superintendent, I. Bjorlee and the entire personnel of the Maryland State School. In his address of welcome, Superintendent Bjorlee made it known that the Maryland school was delighted at the opportunity to extend hospitality and a hand of fellowship and friendship to all the visiting teams. Everything was done to make them feel at home.

In the evening the visitors were entertained in the institution chapel with a cleverly acted playlet "Old Frederick," under the direction of Miss Frances McAndrew. Friday morning the visitors had the opportunity to visit historic places in Frederick.

FRIDAY AFTERNOON

Promptly at 2:30 Supt. Bjorlee of the Maryland school tossed up the first ball, sending the Virginia and Pennsylvania teams into action, thus formally opening the tournament.

Pennsylvania 25—Virginia 24

This game was a thriller from start to finish and victory was only announced with the timer's whistle. Virginia entered the fray a strong favorite to beat Mt. Airy, but Pennsylvania upset the dope. With a minute to go, Virginia had a one-point lead. Wieland, of Mt. Airy, took the ball from the tip-off, pivoted in mid-floor and caged a sensational shot just as the whistle blew, giving Pennsylvania the game by a one-point margin.

Connecticut 35—New York 22

The second game of the afternoon brought together the American School or the Deaf and the St. Joseph's School. From the toss up to the end, the Connecticut quint was in the lead. The New Englanders played a sensational brand of ball. Coach Bouchard had his charges in the pink of condition and well trained in long range shooting, at which they proved adept and found necessary in order to cover the strong defense of New York.

Maryland 25—New Jersey 16

Coach Benson's lads met the New Jersey five in the last game of the afternoon. The first half ended with Coach Moore's outfit leading 11-5. The second half witnessed the Marylanders outplaying New Jersey. Morris Lowe, of the Marylanders, put up a brand of defense that was hard to penetrate and was largely responsible for the victory.

FRIDAY EVENING

New York 22—Pennsylvania 21

The first evening game between Mt. Airy and New York was a corker, which went to the New Yorkers by a score of 22-21. Mt. Airy started with its second team and New York piled up an early lead. In the second half Coach Harlow's tossers put on a rally that almost overcame New York's early lead. The score stood 18-18, with the whistle due any second. It was then that Koezbeda caged a foul which spelled victory for the New Yorkers.

Connecticut 37—New Jersey 15

The second game of the evening was just a marathon for the powerful American school quint. In this game Bellamy, of Connecticut, ran wild, caging the ball from all over the floor. His nine goals for a total of 18 points was enough to beat New Jersey. It was plainly evident the Hartford quint would clinch the title and trophy if Bellamy was not stopped.

Maryland 20—Virginia 19

The nightcap between Maryland and Virginia was another thriller. Virginia started out to humiliate the Frederickians and led at the end of the first half by 11-6. In the last quarter the Marylanders came back with a rush that evened matters. Lowe, of Maryland, caged a difficult shot from the right side of the floor a second before the whistle ended the game. This is the second time Maryland escaped defeat by a single point. And it also marked Virginia's second defeat by one-point margins.

SATURDAY MORNING

New York 35—New Jersey 30

At 9 A.M., the teams resumed hostilities, with St. Joseph and New Jersey taking the floor. This was an easy game for New York.

Connecticut 27—Virginia 26
Connecticut added Virginia to its winning streak of three consecutive victories. Virginia put up a game and stubborn fight, but the combined super shooting of Antila, Bellmay and A. DeMars proved too much for Virginia. Virginia's five-man defense was not effective against the long-range shooting of this trio.

Pennsylvania 19—Maryland 13
Mt. Airy entered this game determined to break the winning streak of the Marylanders, which they accomplished after a hard fight. Failure to do better than one field goal in the last quarter cost Maryland the game. This victory put Pennsylvania one game behind Connecticut for the leadership.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

Virginia 34—New Jersey 16
It will be remembered New Jersey won the first tournament held in Trenton two years ago. At that time they had a powerful team that was a credit to the school and to Coach Moore's training. Graduation forced Moore to build an entirely new team, which was very evident throughout the tourney. Coach Moore brought over a very light and inexperienced team, in fact, their size and weight was very noticeable. But in spite of that, those plucky youngsters fought with stout hearts and their gameness won the admiration of all. This game with Virginia was a one-sided affair.

Pennsylvania 29—Connecticut 21
Mt. Airy furnished the biggest thrill so far by shattering Connecticut's winning streak in a fiercely contested game.

The American School entered the tournament with a winning streak of sixteen consecutive games and the three tourney games boosted it up to nineteen. The sixteen games were won over strong High Schools in Connecticut.

Mt. Airy's brilliant victory put them in a tie for first place with Connecticut, both teams having won three out of four.

New York 24—Maryland 20
Maryland suffered another heart-breaking defeat at the hands of the New Yorkers. This defeat put them out of the running for first place.

SATURDAY EVENING

Pennsylvania 34—New Jersey 10
Mt. Airy remained in the running for first place by virtue of its defeat over New Jersey. The Pennsylvania made this their third straight victory.

Virginia 41—New York 22
Virginia displayed a far better brand of ball than on the previous day and upset the dope by beating the strong New York five.

Connecticut 31—Maryland 29
This game was replete with thrills. Maryland was fighting for a higher place in the team standing, but Connecticut was playing for all it was worth to keep its lead in first place, as another defeat would automatically award Mt. Airy the championship. You can imagine the rest, but let me tell you it was a beautiful game. Connecticut started off with a bang, Maryland came back with a rush and evened matters. From then on it was a see-saw affair. With less than a minute to go and Connecticut leading by two points, the Marylanders got possession of the ball, worked it up the floor and passed it to Knode, one of the best shooters in the tournament. Knode, right under his goal, made a quick throw and missed. The scene that followed reminded me of the time when Casey struck out. The whistle immediately sounded taps on the game and the tournament.

Final Standing of the teams:—

Team	W	L	Pct.	Pts.	Opp
Connecticut	4	1	800	161	121
Pennsylvania	4	1	800	128	90
New York	3	2	600	125	137
Maryland	2	3	400	107	109
Virginia	2	3	400	144	120
New Jersey	0	5	000	77	165

As Connecticut and Pennsylvania were tied for first place in the percentage column, the large handsome trophy, emblematic of the championship, was awarded the Connecticut team, based on the point scoring in case of a tie.

Mt. Airy was presented with a smaller silver trophy for second place. Each member of the championship Connecticut team was presented with a medal.

The coveted gold medal for "best sportsmanship" was awarded to Michael Hyrc, of the New Jersey team. In all respects the tournament was fairly conducted. Two outside referees officiated, Mr. Alvin Quinn, of the Frederick Y. M. C. A., and Mr. Colley, of Hagerstown, Md. Mr. Frederick Hughes, of Gallaudet College, had been appointed official timer, but was unable to appear till Saturday night. Ten high scores in the tournament:—

	Games	Goals	Fouls	Total
Lockridge, Va.	5	26	12	64
Bellmay, Conn.	5	24	3	51
Knode, Md.	5	19	10	48
Waldron, Va.	5	17	10	44
A. De Mars, Conn.	5	14	10	38
Eberley, Penna.	4	17	3	36
Calandra, N. Y.	3	14	6	34
Ward, N. Y.	5	15	3	33
Antila, Conn.	5	14	2	30
Hyrc, N. J.	5	9	6	25
Godley, N. J.	5	11	12	24

It was announced that the third annual tournament may be held in Mt. Airy, Pa.

A staff reporter of the Frederick News-Post was sent to cover the tournament and did full justice. It published an "Eastern States All-Tournament First and Second Teams" which is printed below:—

First Team	Pos.	Second Team
Lockridge, Va.	F	Knode, Md.
Bellmay, Conn.	F	Eberley, Pa.
Antila, Conn.	C	Hyrc, N. J.
Lowe, Md.	G	Roop, Va.
Balakier, N. Y.	G	Potenza, N. Y.
Best Bet—Antila		Best Bet—Eberley
Honorable Mention—Calamandria, N. Y.		A. DeMars, Conn.; Waldron, Va., forwards.
Gehard, Penna., guard.

The attendance at the tournament was rather disappointing. Over fifty Washingtonians were present.

In all other respects, the tournament was a great success and a credit to Superintendent Bjorlee, Mr. Benson and Mr. McVernon, who engineered the affair. They made it their duty to see that the visiting teams were treated fairly, and saw to it that they brought back home with them happy memories of their visit. We believe this was accomplished.

DETROIT

News items intended for this column should be sent to Mrs. Lucy E. May, 2534 Ottawa St., Detroit, Mich. Such news items from Detroiters and vicinity as well as from the deaf of Michigan will be most welcome and have prompt attention.

Mr. and Mrs. James Marshall's son, Paul, of Indiana, was called home on account of his wife's illness last Friday evening. He was on his way by auto, but lost control when an old man walked on to the road. It skidded and turned over and he was found unconscious. He wasn't hurt, but the old man's leg was broken. Paul was released. Last Sunday morning Paul's wife passed away.

Mrs. Laura Walker's son and daughter-in-law are proud of a new baby boy, born on February 14th, weighing ten pounds.

Miss Matilda Stark, Mrs. B. Toegel and Mrs. E. Smyth, were the guests of Mrs. George McDonald last Thursday, and they enjoyed it very much.

Mrs. Dennis Hannan has been staying with her son in Wyandotte the past two weeks and is enjoying herself.

Mr. W. R. Jones, father of Mrs. Thomas Kenney, who is seventy-three years old, was operated on the throat at the Baptist Hospital in New Orleans, La. He is doing nicely. Mrs. Kenney expects to go there soon.

On February 16th, there was a Valentine Mask Ball, managed by Mr. Sam Goth. About a hundred people were present, but only eleven of them were masked. The prizes were awarded to Mrs. Reicher for first, and her husband too. Second to Mrs. B. Toegel for most comical, and Mr. Henders. Third went to Jeannette May and John May, children of ye writer. The club hall was decorated in red and white, and was very pretty.

Mr. Henders dressed in white and pasted comic valentines all over. He made up fine. Mr. Reicher had two big hearts made of card board. The D. A. D. had a valentine social on the same day. A good crowd was there. Good games were enjoyed.

Mr. Alex Lobsinger expects to go to New Baltimore with his friends for the holidays.

Miss Lena Yack was called two weeks ago, to go to Woodstock, Ont., to attend the funeral of her brother.

A Pleasure Social will be held at the Frat Club on March 2d. Everybody is welcome.

A social will be held at St. John's Parish House, on March 8th. Everybody is welcome.

Rev. Franklin Smielau gave a very good sermon at St. John's Church last February 10th.

A "500" party was given at Mrs. Behrendt's residence on February 21st. Mrs. Heymansson and Mr. Horace Waters won the prizes. A very good lunch was on sale. Profit was about $6.50. About fifteen people were there. The cold weather kept back many.

Detroit Chapter, M. A. D., gave a George Washington Mask Ball at the G. A. R. Building on February 23d. About 150 people were on hand. Around $35 was the net profit, which goes for benefit of the Home for the Aged and Infirm Deaf.

The judges were Mrs. Grace Davis, Mrs. Case, Miss Sloane and Mr. and Mrs. Lynch, of New Jersey. Mrs. Lynch was educated at the school for deaf in Fulton, Mo. First prizes were awarded to Mrs. Bertha Toegel and Mr. Lucas, second to Mrs. Joel Piott and Mr. Reicher, third to Miss Louise Behrendt and Master Harry Buppest. The door prize of $10 in gold won by Miss Alma Marai, and $5 in gold to Wesley Diexbury. The Betty Schmult Orchestra furnished the music, which was very good. Miss Betty Schmult is a sister to Mrs. Anna Mahl.

Mrs. Sawhill, mother of Mrs. Horace Waters, is reported very ill at her residence. We hope she will be able to be around with us soon.

Mrs. Aloysius Japes' daughter is recovering from the chicken pox.

Mrs. Clarence Bussing, of Coldwater, Mich., mourns for her aunt, Birdie Ferguson, who died recently. The friends of Mrs. Bussing, who knew her aunt very well, sympathize with her.

THE FAIRY-GODMOTHERS' BANQUET

The second annual banquet of the Fairy Godmothers Club was held on Thursday night, February 14th, at the handsome and popular Adelphia Hotel. This club was founded by the late Rev. C. O. Dantzer during the first year of the terrible World War and was intended to aid a poor French family, whose husband and father had been shot down. Rev. Mr. Dantzer suggested that a club be formed, which should be limited to twenty members of his church. Each member was to subscribe regularly each month a small sum, which was regularly sent to this poor French widow to support her and educate her daughter. The club remained faithful and unbroken until the end of the war and for a short time after peace was declared. Rev. Mr. Dantzer at this time was in very failing health and his wish to disband the club hung fire until his death. Then it was unanimously decided to keep up the beloved monthly meetings of the popular organization as a lasting memorial to its dearly loved founder. During its existence the club has raised several thousands of dollars, which have been sent out to aid various causes brought to its notice. At the banquet Thursday night, all but two of the twenty members were present. Mrs. Margaret J. Syle, who has been very ill for nearly a year, was unable to be present, much to the club's regret, and Mrs. C. O. Dantzer, who is in the West, also had to send "regrets."

Thanks to Mrs. Mary McNeil, of Mt. Airy, one of the club's most popular members, the great round table was beautifully decorated in scarlet and green. The menu was beyond criticism; the table service above reproach, and the members presented a fine appearance, all in their best "bibs and tuckers." It is a rule of the club that each year the after-dinner speakers shall be changed, giving each member a chance to speak. This year Mrs. Alice E. Breen gave a short memorial of Rev. Mr. Dantzer; Mrs. Helen McGhee, a brief history of the club's founding; Mrs. Helen Smith, a report of the financial condition of the club, and last, but by no means least, Mrs. Mary McNeil gave the beautiful poem, "God be with you till we meet again." We were all agreeably surprised and delighted by Mrs. McNeil's rendering of the poem, as she is an orator, and has associated very little with the deaf. The club gave a rousing vote of thanks to Mr. George T. Sanders for the printing and gift of the menu and place cards; to Mrs. Alice E. Breen gave a short memorial of Rev. Mr. Dantzer; Mrs. Helen McGhee, a brief history of the club's founding; Mrs. Helen Smith, a report of the financial condition of the club, and last, but by no means least, Mrs. Mary McNeil gave the beautiful poem, "God be with you till we meet again." CHICAGO

A large number of deaf people gathered at the Capital Building for a "500" and bunco party, Saturday, February 23d, under the management of Mr. Damen. The games for prizes furnished the diversion of the evening.

Mrs. Jane Brasher, an eighty-four-year-old deaf woman, had the misfortune to fall down the steps outside of her home last week, injuring her left arm, which necessitated her carrying it in a bandage for one week. She went up the steps on the arm of her son, George, also deaf, but she slipped with the above result.

A large number of Catholic deaf attended a mass, conducted by Father O'Brien, with Holy Communion, at the chapel in the Ephpheta Club house, Sunday morning, February 24th.

Miss Edith Ross, after a stay of two months with her relatives here, has gone to Minnesota to visit her deaf sister for some time and then will return home in Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Young are the proud parents of a baby girl, born on February 21st.

The Rt. Rev. Sheldon M. Griswold, suffragan bishop of the local diocese, officiated this week at the dedication services in memory of Mrs. William Gold Hibbard at the All Angels' Episcopal Church for the Deaf at 6122 Indiana Avenue. The interior of the church, which Mrs. Hibbard purchased for the deaf-mutes before her death, has been completely redecorated and the chancel altered.

Mrs. Robert B. Gregory, daughter of Mrs. Hibbard, has given a number of memorials to the church in honor of her mother and she attended the dedicatory exercises. —Chicago News.

The benefit entertainment of the Methodist Mission has changed its date from March 23d to April 13th. Save the date and attend the entertainment.

George John Marsch was received into the preparatory membership of the Methodist Episcopal Mission on February 24, 1929.

A complimentary dinner was given by the Minnesota deaf friends to Miss Elizabeth Tate, the daughter of their late superintendent, Dr. J. N. Tate, at the Stop & Shop Cafeteria last Saturday evening. About eighteen sat at the table.

Her friends will be glad to hear that Mrs. N. L. Noah is recovering from her recent illness in Indianapolis.

Mrs. Sadie E. Allen, of Aurora, entertained at a Valentine party, Thursday evening, at the home of her sister. Bunco was played, with prizes going to Miss Sarah O'Brien and Mrs. Ruth Sharpnack, of Oak Park, Ill. Lunch was served afterwards.

Sarah O'Brien, of Aurora, has been keeping house alone by herself for the past five years with a bird and cat for company. She has worked in the garment trade for twenty years and is in good health, considering her age.

Mrs. Sadie Allen's other brother and niece left for Texas; to remain a few months, also her sister and husband left for Florida to stay with his brother for a month.

Charles H. Schmidt, of Aurora, is working overtime at the Pictorial Paper Package Co. every day while there is a big rush order.

The M. E. members are busy making preparations for the "Laughter and Thrills" entertainment and Good Home Cafeteria at the M. E. Headquarters, Room 208, 509 S. Wabash Avenue, on Saturday, April 13th.

The proceeds will go to the church Endowment Fund, which goal is $50,000.

Our endowment to date is $1860 in cash. Chairman Sharpnack and his committee invite you to come and see the play. Twenty-five cents is the admission price.

Detroit Association of the Deaf

The Detroit Association of the Deaf has had a very successful season the past year.

Since we moved back to our old home at 8 East Jefferson last fall, our monthly receipts have been trebled and our membership increased by about fifty. We feel well repaid for the $400 spent in decorating and remodeling the rooms to suit our needs. H. Furman, S. Seppanen, and C. Huegel, carpenters; F. McCarthy, electrician; and A. Lobsinger, general helper and the one responsible for the splendid dancing floor worked indefatigably to get the hall ready for the grand opening in October, which drew a record crowd of over 300.

Among the principal events were the vaudeville at the Detroit Armory in November, netting $450; the hundred-dollar Hobo Dance February 9th, which brought many visitors from Canada, Cleveland, Toledo, Flint and other cities; the annual Watch Night party December 31st, with the usual three figures profit; and the Christmas Festival December 22d. This was by far the best ever held in Detroit, and we expected our new member, "that funny feller, Crutch" to tell the world about it; but we, the chairman, heard that he staid out in the hall! The rooms were beautifully decorated and our electrician, F. McCarthy, had an effective display of colored lights over the platform. The entire program was both signed and spoken, or sung. Besides our regular "old reliable" players, the new stars included F. McCarthy; Albert Difazio, a pupil at Flint; and several juveniles. A very pretty playlet of the typical Christmas characters—tree, stocking, gift, snow, cold weather, log fire, Christmas Spirit, and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus, brought the splendid program to a close. Each member received a leather-bound memo pad and pencil, as well as a box of candy from the city's leading candy studio.

However, a cloud passed over our holiday gaiety, as one of our youthful interpreters, Norman Lobsinger, passed into the Great Beyond, December 31st, after a sudden illness. The members sent a large and beautiful basket of roses, which, however, could not express their deep sympathy for his stricken parents, or their sorrow that his sweet young life, so full of promise, was cut short.

The officers for 1929 are D. Difazio, President; H. Furman, (the club's financial Scotchman), and F. Thornley, Vice-Presidents; Ben Beaver, Secretary; A. Lobsinger, Financial Secretary; Paul Smith, Treasurer; M. Fielding, G. Elger, S. Raskin, Trustees; S. Seppanen, Sergeant-at-Arms.

The social committee consists of J. Hellers, J. Walter and Prickett.

Plans are under way to have novel socials once each month under the supervision of the ladies, who will likely reorganize the Auxiliary.

"Sic transit gloria mundi."

In another day we will be among those fortunate, who will witness the triumphal entry of Herbert Hoover into the White House, and the honorable exit of Calvin Coolidge, and will proceed to alter our habitual, "President Coolidge," and "Mr. Hoover," so that it will read the other way around. Although the weather, man predicts rain for the day, the students will turn out to a man to witness the ceremonies, for such things happen but once in the lifetime of many of us.

Pleasures come and pleasures go, sorrows appear and are forgotten. Only a select few really affect us. But the sum total of them enriches and deepens our lives. We have many such pleasures at Gallaudet that are enjoyed, reported in the DEAF-MUTES' JOURNAL and the Buff and Blue, and then relegated to the musty storeroom of our memories.

Among the latest pleasures we have experienced is the Literary Society meeting of last Friday which, it can be conservatively said, was one of the most interesting events of the year.

Professor Irving Fursfeld described the journeys of Commander Dyott, an English naval officer and explorer, who last year led a party into the wilds of the Brazilian jungle in search of another famous explorer, Col. Faycett, who had entered the jungle in 1925, looking for a lost civilization there and had never returned. Although Commander Dyott's thrilling adventures have received little publicity in this country, they equal the experience of Livingstone in Africa. An interesting phase of the narrative was the fact that Dyott carried on all his conversations with the Indians in signs. Mr. Fursfeld, who had the good fortune to hear Commander Dyott lecture before the National Geographic Society, described some of these natural signs used which were, of course, easily recognized and understood by all of us.

After Mr. Fursfeld's talk, John O'Brien and Max Mossel, dressed as a cross-eyed big game hunter and an African king, cracked a dozen or so smiles and laughs in a dialogue entitled "In the Midst of the African Jungle," and Leonard Lau recited a thrilling poem, "Congo" to the tune of a tom-tom beat by Theodore Brickley behind the scenes. A short, informal dance followed as usual, with a phonograph playing merely to mark the beginning and end of the dances.

Late that evening the basketball team returned from its last game with Shepherd College, bringing a new ball back with them. The score was Gallaudet 45, Shepherd 34! This game was not only a pleasant end to the basketball season, but sweet revenge as well. Hartman, the Shepherd ace, who led his team to victory over us last time and who accounted for 17 points at that game, was able to land only one basket this time, due to the close guarding of Ringle. While Cain and Ringle did most of the defensive work, Cosgrove, Drapiewski and Dyer cut loose and netted 41 points together, Cosgrove 17, Drapiewski 14 and Dyer 10. The early periods of the game were hard going, neither team seeming to have the advantage. At the half the score was 20-18 in our favor. Cosgrove landed five goals and three throws, but missed even more chances. In the third period, matters failed to improve, both teams running neck to neck. But in the fourth period, an unusual streak of luck with our long shots put us in the lead and then our marksmen proceeded to pepper the cords till we were well on the road to victory. Cosgrove's 17 points put him far in the lead of all other D. C. players in the number of points scored.

The season has been decidedly good. We have been fortunate in having such a stellar aggregation of players all at one time and, with the exception of a short mid-season slump that lost us three games, they have shown a classy brand of basketball such as rarely appears among Gallaudet teams. Among our victims were some of the strongest teams in this section of the east. Dyer, Cosgrove and Cain have shown an almost professional mastery of the game all through the season, while Drapiewski and Ringle, although they started out slowly, gradually fought their way to equality with the veterans. Hokanson, who figured prominently last season, has not been so much in evidence this year. However, he has always been one of our most dependable players, a good shooter and sturdy, heady guard. It is expected that all of these men will be back again next year to gather new laurels and to excel their present high averages. Among the second team we have a number of promising men who will also return and may win a place on the regular line-up next season. Coach Walter "Wally" Krug has not only a team to be proud of, but a brilliant record as coach to look back upon. He is admired and almost loved by all his men. "Wally" is not only a good coach, but a stern disciplinarian and an inspiring mentor. All hail the Krugmen! Following is a summary of the season's wins and losses:

	We	They
American University	21	30
Maryland State Normals	35	25
Benjamin Franklin University	37	25
Flint Silents	34	13
University of Baltimore	34	37
Catholic University	26	21
Old Dominion Boat Club	30	22
Shepherd College	28	42
St. John's College	25	41
Benjamin Franklin University	24	36
Georgetown University	39	29
Georgetown University	29	42
Old Dominion Boat Club	58	21
Juniaeta College	41	44
St. Mary's Celtics	50	31
Shepherd College	45	34

Although the reserves are fine players, the Sophomore players not on the squad sprung a surprise on them by beating them 23-21. The Sophomores are interclass basketball champs and their victory over the reserves shows that they have several promising basketball men, who will probably join the squad next year. They are Dobson, Zieske, Yoder, Marshall, Friedman and Greenberg.

Mr. Bernard Teitelbaum, '23, is a visitor at the college, having made the trip from Pittsburgh with a friend, Mr. Stanton and John Grace, '28, all teachers in the Western Pennsylvania School. All three came for the inauguration, but Mr. Teitelbaum also was able to witness the Kappa Gamma Fraternity initiation Saturday night and partake of the feast that followed.

Our time is now mostly taken up with preparations for bigger events to come—the O. W. L. S. public program on March 9th, the Literary Society meeting March 15th, and the Kappa Gamma banquet, March 16th, at which a cheering and important announcement is expected to be made. Mr. Thomas Fox, of the Fanwood School, will be at Gallaudet to deliver the annual alumnus lecture sponsored by the Literary Society, and a large number of the alumni are expected to be present to hear him.

We will close for the present, while the Seniors are sweating over their graduation essays and the rest of us are waiting for something else to happen. Curtain, please.

Hugh Conley Seward Dead

Mr. Hugh C. Seward, former Assistant Steward at Fanwood, died on Friday evening, March 1st, at Caldwell, N. J. Mr. Seward succeeded Mr. W. G. Basingthwaite as clerk in 1892 and served under Mr. Chauncey N. Brainerd, then superintendent of the Institution, at which time Isaac Lewis Peet was Principal. In the change of administration, which occurred in 1893, when Enoch Henry Currier became Principal in charge of all the departments of the Institution, Mr. Seward succeeded Mr. G. T. Newell, Jr., as Assistant Steward. Mr. Seward was very capable, and in recognition of his abilities, was called upon to visit the homes of deaf children who were not attending school, and in this way helped the management to bring the number of pupils to the highest in the history of the Institution since the time when the State of New Jersey had no school of its own and sent all its pupils to this Institution.

Mr. Seward was quite prominent in clubs and fraternal orders. He became Master of his Masonic Lodge, and retired from the Institution work in 1905 to practice law. He gained his admission to the bar by study in his spare time while employed at the Institution. The funeral was held at Caldwell on Monday, March 4th, with full Masonic rites.

Mr. Seward was not married.

Still Wondering

The deaf man got out of the tram-car on the other line of rails.

"Look out! There's a car coming!" cried the conductor.

"What?" said the deaf man.

"There's a car coming."

"What?"

Just then the car caught and knocked down the deaf man, and as he picked himself up he said:

"I wonder what that fool kept me here talking about?"—Ex.

SEATTLE

Seattle is just emerging from the longest cold spell in her history, or rather in the history of the Weather Bureau. For weeks the thermometer has stayed slightly below or above freezing point, so that the twelve-inches of snow on the ground melted very slowly. The paper says that the cold wave has extended practically around the world in the northern hemisphere. The scenery in the northwest had a new beauty, and the campus was wonderful with its blanket of snow, and the dark green trees showing up sharply against it. The icicles were so long that down-town unemployed men had a new occupation, that of climbing buildings and removing them, so that they would not fall and injure passers-by. Up in the mountains the skiing was glorious. The temperature was 20 degrees below, and the air clear and dry. Helen Hanson spent the past week-end up at one of the lodges with a party of thirty mountaineers, and they were all out on skis. Helen came home feeling so refreshed that she was quite willing to argue the point with any one who did not consider life worth living.

February 5th was the anniversary of Dr. E. M. Gallaudet's birthday, and also the date of the annual diocesan dinner, held in the big dining room of the Chamber of Commerce. L. O. Christenson and the Hansons attended, and after the excellent dinner was over, were prepared to sit through as best they might an hour or so of speech-making. But Dean Roberts kindly and voluntarily came to their assistance, and wrote down nearly the whole of the speech of the brilliant and witty Bishop of Oregon, who was the chief speaker of the evening. So we were richly rewarded for attending the dinner.

The February meeting of the P. S. A. D. witnessed the annual election of officers. The reports of the treasurer and trustees showed the treasury in a healthy condition. For president, Mr. Bertram and Dr. Hanson were nominated, and the latter was elected. As Mr. Bertram is president of the Frats, and chairman of the local committee preparing for the W. S. A. D. convention next summer, the association felt that he had enough to occupy him for the present. L. O. Christenson was elected vice-president; Mrs. Hanson, secretary; and Mrs. Bertram, treasurer, by acclamation. John Hood and Mr. Holcombe are the new directors, and Mr. Koberstein, sergeant-at-arms. Mr. John Bodley was elected trustee by acclamation. The association passed a motion to donate forty dollars from the treasury towards the convention fund. The Lutheran Church donated twenty dollars, it was announced, and Gallaudet Guild also will make a donation.

Miss Isabelle Nation, a sister of our Doris, is employed as a secretary by the British Consulate here.

Miss Sophia Mullin is spending the month of February at home, keeping house for her sister; in the hope that complete rest will hasten the latter's return to health. Mrs. Boyle is beloved by every one who knows her, and we all hope great benefit to her from her sister's help.

The boys say there is a fine new bowling hall with thirty-two alleys, just opened near Eagle's Hall, where the Frats meet. The ventilation, in particular, they declare to be perfect. Lance Evans, who rooms at the Y. M. C. A., and is at leisure every evening, has found this new hall a great attraction, and occasionally takes a hand at the bowling.

The first of the weekly Lenten guild meetings was held Tuesday. The main topic this year is the life of St. Paul, though religious questions of various sorts are also brought up and discussed.

Cyril Vincent's birthday is on groundhog day each year, and this year he passed his seventy-second milestone. Though he has been down and out since the accident years ago, which deprived him of the fingers of his right hand, he has some very good family connections in England. A niece of his in London recently sent Dr. Hanson five pounds to use as his judgment saw fit for her uncle's benefit.

Mr. William LaMotte took dinner with the Waughns on Sunday the 10th. He is an old friend of theirs, having known them well in Chicago, and he frequently enjoys the hospitality of their home.

A Miss Hughes, a sister of Mrs. Ed Miland, is employed in the University branch public library. From her we learn that Mrs. Miland and the children have been enduring a siege of the flu.

The Partridges are now settled in their new home, and enjoying it a great deal. Mrs. Patridge, however, had quite a bad fall. Climbing a tall stool to look for something on a high closet shelf, she forgot the height of the stool and confused it with a much smaller one. So she stepped off and lost her balance, falling and striking her back against the tiling of the kitchen sink. She was fortunate to escape without any broken bones. The muscles of her back are stiff and sore for the time being.

WEDDING ANNIVERSARY IN BROOKLYN

At the Bradford Mansion in East New York, on Saturday evening, February 23, 1929, there gathered a host of friends to celebrate the twelfth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Weiner, with an elaborate supper and presentation of a 100-piece set of fancy colored dishes.

It was a surprise, cleverly arranged by Mrs. B. Abrams. Mrs. Abrams asked Mrs. Weiner to spend the afternoon with her and afterwards asked her to go to a party in honor of another friend's birthday.

Outside of the Mansion, there was stationed one of the guests to watch the coming of the "victim" of the surprise.

When Mrs. Weiner entered with Mrs. Abrams, the lights were turned on and she was dumb-founded till a speaker explained the occasion to her.

Mr. Mendel Berman acted as toast-master. Those called upon to make all present merry with pantomime and funny stories were Messrs. Irving and Louis Blumenthal, Abe Eisenberg, Gerson Taube and a few others.

Mr. Morris Weiner presented his wife with a beautiful onyx ring, set with diamonds.

Among those present were: Messrs. and Mesdames B. Abrams, L. Baker, Louis Blumenthal, M. Auerbach, I. Bloom, T. Blumenthal, J. Goldstein, J. Friedman, G. Taube, Abe Eisenberg, H. Hanneman, H. Grossman, M. Berman, Mesdames S. Paul, M. Seaman, H. Schulman, I. Kopolowitz, A. Meisel; Misses M. Austin, L. Socoloff, Jennie Socoloff; Messrs. D. Socoloff, J. Landan, W. Krienik, S. Michaels and Mrs. Weiner's parents and grandmother. The four Socloffs are sisters and brothers of Mrs. Weiner.

Notwithstanding the heavy downpour that prevailed on Saturday evening, March 2d, over one hundred turned up to take part in the "500" and whist games scheduled for that evening at the rooms of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League. Some of the best players in city were among them, and the play throughout was hotly contested.

The winners in the "500" were: Ladies—Mrs. Frank Nimmo and Mrs. R. Wasserman. Gentlemen—Messrs. Frank Nimmo and Abe M. Miller.

The winners at whist were Miss Batty Noogers, first; Miss Seidman, second, for the ladies; and Mr. Max Kantrow, first; Mr. L. Goldwasser, second, for the gentlemen.

There was also some dancing after the games. The affair terminated at about midnight.

The Entertainment Committee consisting of Michael Ciavolino, Morris Kremen, Julius Seandel, Max Hoffman and Charles Sussman, performed their duties in a creditable manner.

The next affair will be in April. See advertisement on fourth page of this paper.

On Saturday, March 2d, a surprise party was tendered Mrs. George N. Donovan, of Richmond Hill, L. I., managed by Miss Margaret Jones and Mrs. J. Salmon. Mrs. Donovan, unaware and unsuspecting, had planned to attend the U. L. whist party. One by one, friends poured in until nearly two score numbered. An elaborate repast was served at midnight. A most delightful and merry time was enjoyed by all. Those present were Messrs. and Mesdames Edward Rapport, Paul Tarlen, E. Wolgamot, J. Gregory, J. Salmon, Charles Donovan, George C. Donovan, George N. Donovan, H. Holmes, G. D. Kinsey, H. Daniels, W. Sullivan, V. Anderson, Mrs. Helen Ross, Mr. Ralph Swan, Mr. A. Woods, Misses J. Albrecht, Marie Salmon and Dorothea Salmon.

Mr. Richard Long died of apoplexy on Thursday, February 29th. The funeral was held at the Williams Undertaking Parlors on Sunday evening, March 3d. There were quite a number of the deaf present. Mr. Long was a pupil at Fanwood from 1886 to 1898, and after leaving school he secured a good position as pattern cutter at high wages, which he held until he suffered a stroke paralyzing one side and affecting his brain, thus incapacitating him from further work at his trade. However, he was able to hobble about and eke out a meager living at peddling, and his passing on was a merciful release from his unfortunate condition.

On February 23d, a surprise party was given to Mr. J. Kansriddle by his wife and others for his birthday. Many beautiful and valuable gifts were given to him. All had a very nice feast, and there were two big birthday cakes. Mrs. E. Burke acted as master of ceremonies, and entertainment was amply provided by Mrs. T. Skontelas.

Mrs. Frank Lux, traveling in South America with Miss Andem, writes from Punta Arenas, Central America, on February 6th, that they are enjoying splendid weather down there. Mrs. Lux sent a fine snapshot she took of "Lindy" on his way to the seaplane that made the trip to Honduras.

The testimonial dinner to Mr. Edwin A. Hodgson by his "printer boys" will take place on Saturday evening, March 30th, at the Aldine Club, which is on the fourteenth floor of the Fifth Avenue Building, 200 Fifth Avenue, at the corner of Twenty-third Street. The charge is $2.50 per plate, and those who are too far away to attend are urged to send a contribution of a dollar or more for the memorial to be presented to Mr. Hodgson. Time is getting shorter, and there will be only two more issues of the JOURNAL before Mr. Hodgson returns. Nearly a hundred plates have been engaged thus far. Quite a score who can not come have sent contributions. Is yours in? Address the secretary, W. A. Renner, 99 Fort Washington Avenue, New York City.

It may be of passing interest to mention that the Aldine Club is on the site of the old Fifth Avenue Hotel that was a great meeting place for the deaf of those days, who were wont to gather there after the services at St. Ann's, when the church was on Eighteenth Street.

The program for the Literary Night under the auspices of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, on Sunday evening, March 10th, will have a debate on "Resolved, that the restriction of immigration is a wise policy." The affirmative will be Michael Ciavolino and negative, Michael Hamra. There will be two readings, "My Deafness was my Salvation" by N. W. Miller, and Mark Twain's "Joan of Arc" by John N. Funk. It will be closed with a Shadowgraph, under the direction of George St. Clair.

On this Saturday evening, March 9th, a charity entertainment and dance will be held at the Hebrew Educational Society Building, Hopkinson and Sutter Avenues, Brooklyn, N. Y., under the auspices of the Brooklyn Hebrew Society of the Deaf. The proceeds of the affair will be given for Passover food for the needy. The admission is fifty cents for adults, and twenty-five Cards have been received from Editor E. A. Hodgson and Mr. Sylvester J. Fogarty, from Nassau, under date of February 26th. They say that at that place the weather is like a day in June. As this was received on Saturday, March 2d, one of the worst of our wintry days, one thinks how lucky they are!

Do not forget the Literary Night of the Deaf-Mutes' Union League, on Sunday evening, March 10, 1929. It will be followed by a shadowgraph, which will cause much laughter Mr. John N. Funk has arranged everything, so do not fail to attend at 8 P. M.

The next regular session of the Fanwood Alumni Association will be held at the Fanwood School, 99 Fort Washington Avenue and 163d Street, on Saturday evening, March 9th, at 8:30 o'clock.

The mother of Miss Annie Hamburger is improving, after several months of confinement from severe pains in the knee joints.

Evening classes in English (reading and writing) for the deaf have been started at Public School, No. 150, (Room 412) at Sackman Street and Sutter Avenue, Brooklyn. Tuesday and Wednesday from 8 to 10 P. M.

Mrs. Frieda Weinberg, beloved mother of Lawrence and Marvel Weinberg, passed away of heart failure on Wednesday, February 27th, in her sixty-third year.

Owen Wilson, of Hartford, Ct., was in town on Friday, March 1st.

Deaf Mute is Ordained

DURHAM, N. C., Jan. 27. Witnessed by a congregation made up of the deaf and those blessed with the gift of hearing, Rev. Roma C. Fortune, deaf minister of Durham, was this morning elevated to the priesthood of the Episcopal Church. The impressive service, held in St. Philip's Episcopal Church, was conducted by Bishop Joseph B. Cheshire, head of the diocese of North Carolina.

For many years Rev. Mr. Fortune has led the deaf and dumb of Durham and near-by towns in their religious life, and the local church is declared to be the largest in the State and one of the largest in the South. Plans for the erection of a church to be used exclusively by the deaf colony have been approved and money for its erection is in hand. As soon as a site is selected and the building erected, the minister and his congregation will have one of a few churches for the deaf in the United States.

The sermon was preached by Bishop Cheshire and translated into the sign-language for the benefit of the deaf members of the congregation. —Atlanta Constitution.

OHIO

News items for this column can be sent to B. M. Edgar, 56 Latta Avenue, Columbus, Ohio.

The long anticipated tournament is a thing of the past now and we saw some thrilling games, and to us, an uninitiated onlooker, it all seemed good clean sport. The Ohio girls captured the loving cup trophy by defeating the Indiana girls by 20 to 19, a close shave, but a victory nevertheless. Indiana won the boys' trophy for the third time.

Following is the standing of the teams in the number of games won:—

Indiana	5
Wisconsin	3
Michigan	3
Illinois	2
Kentucky	2
Ohio	1

Mr. Uridil (O. S. U.) was referee, and Mr. Thomas (O. S. U.) acted as umpire all through the tournament.

Wisconsin was given a miniature trophy, and Michigan got the ball used in all the games.

The games as played were:—

Indiana 33—Kentucky 16
Wisconsin 25—Ohio 18

Michigan 19—Illinois 10
Indiana 27—Ohio 10

Kentucky 18—Wisconsin 11
Illinois 15—Indiana 16

Ohio 16—Kentucky 11
Michigan 7—Wisconsin 20

Illinois 18—Ohio 9
Michigan 11—Indiana 26

Illinois 11—Wisconsin 26
Kentucky 15—Michigan

NEWS AND COMMENTS

The Atlanta deaf and all those interested in the success of the recent basketball tournament are greatly indebted to Mr. H. K. Bush, of Richmond, Va., who with Mrs. Bush and Miss Ruth Tucker, motorized up from Miami, Florida, to attend the games. Upon learning that the Atlanta Committee found themselves facing a deficit of about $150, Mr. Bush took off his hat and producing a ten-dollar bill, started a collection, going around among the audience himself and urging them to chip in and help clear the deficit. His appeal met with a ready response and the hat was soon filled, the amount coming within thirty dollars of the amount required. Later in the evening a friend gave the balance and the Atlanta deaf woke up on Sunday morning, knowing that the entire cost of entertaining the teams, (something like six hundred dollars) had been paid in full, thanks to the generosity of Mr. Bush, and his efforts in behalf of the fund.

The Raleigh, N. C., Literary Club, which has been meeting regularly for the past year, held an election of officers to serve during 1929. The following were elected: Mrs. J. M. Robertson, President; Mrs. Louise Haynes, Vice-President; Miss Jessie Uzzell, Secretary; and Grover C. Poole, Treasurer. The next meeting of this club will be held on March 9th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Miller.

Durham Division No. 95, N. F. S. D., will have its annual banquet in Durham on the evening of March 30th. An excellent program is being prepared. An effort is being made to have Gov. Max Gardner speak.

A wedding of much interest throughout the State was that of Miss Ruth Arrowood to Mr. Hugh Miller, Jr., which was solemnized Thursday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. U. Arrowood on E. Marion Street, in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends. Rev. H. N. McDiarmind, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, officiated, using the ring ceremony.

The bride wore a powder blue costume, with corsage bouquet of red roses and violets.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller left immediately by motor for a wedding trip to Tampa and Miami, Fla., and Cuba, and upon their return will keep house at their apartment with Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Jenkins on S. Washington Street. — Star, Shelby, N. C.

Mrs. H. K. Bush and Miss Ruth Tucker, of Virginia; Mrs. J. W. Michaels, of Arkansas; Mrs. A. L. Silver, of North Carolina; Mrs. McElvane, of Alabama; Misses Annie McDaniel, Ada Jackson and Louis Hitchcock, of the Georgia School for the Deaf; in Atlanta for the basketball tournament, were honor guests of the Nadfrat Woman's Club at a lovely luncheon on Saturday, February 16th.

Miss Alice Millard and Mr. Ois. Hudgins, of North Carolina, were married on December 30, 1928. They will reside with the groom's parents, but our informant did not state where it was.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin, of Savannah, Georgia, have been spending several days in this city the guests of the J. G. Bishops. Mr. Weil is anxious to locate in our midst if he can secure employment here.

Mr. W. R. Hackney, president of the Hackney Plumbing Company, of Charlotte, North Carolina, who has been confined to his home for three weeks with an attack of flu, has recovered so far as to be able to resume his duties at his office.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Martin, of Florida, announce the birth of a son, William Leonard. Mrs. Martin was before her marriage Miss Eunice Barrow, of Waco, Ga.

Mrs. L. L. Edmondson, of Raleigh, N. C., who was confined to the Watts Hospital for several weeks following a serious operation, was recently discharged from the hospital and is doing nicely at home.

Rev. C. H. Williams, a deaf evangelist to the deaf of Delaware, is touring the Southern States in the interest of his mission work. He was last heard from in North Carolina, heading Atlantaward.

Our old and honored friend, Mr. David Tillinghast, who is wintering with his daughter in St. Petersburg, Florida, is reported enjoying good health down there under sunny skies.

Under the caption "Atlanta," the Palmello Leaf has the following to say about the deaf of this city. Words of praise are always appreciated when coming from outsiders, therefore we reproduce the article, in order that all our Atlantans may see it. The article follows:

Individuals have given and continue to give their time and energy to the success of the tournament.

"There is also a group of individuals who we think deserve some mention for the part they play. Those to whom we refer are the deaf people of Atlanta. They deserve much credit for their co-operation, enthusiasm, and support of the tournament. It is they who have so generously made the whole affair possible, for Atlanta is, indeed, a central point in the South.

"There seems to be very little if any argument as to whether or not the tournament is really worth the time, trouble, and expense. All of those who in past years have had any share in it, agree that it is entirely worthwhile. It is a good thing for the different schools and it is an excellent thing for the members of the different teams.

"The thought comes that if these people of Atlanta are willing to do so much for this affair, surely we should appreciate their kindness. And again we wonder that if they are willing to do so much, should not others of the alumni of our schools be willing to help them. There are many who are not too far away to attend the tournament. Others are too far away, but they might show their interest in the affair by giving it their financial support and hearty co-operation. Don't make Atlanta do it all—do your bit."

Atlanta Chapter, No. 1, D. A. D., was reorganized on February 20th. Mr. James Ponder, the first president having resigned, Mr. Jeff Scott was elected to serve during the coming year. Other officers elected for another year were: Hewitt Morgan, Vice-president; Mrs. J. G. Bishop, Secretary-Treasurer. Rev. J. W. Michaels, General Organizer for the D. A. D., was with us and assisted in drafting a Constitution and a new set of By-laws. He also mapped out a good business program to be followed at all meetings in the future. The election of Mr. Scott as president is especially pleasing to everyone here as he is a young man and earnest worker in the cause of his fellow deaf, and we are all confident that he will make a splendid official. The Atlanta deaf have pledged themselves to stand behind him and help to make the administration a success.
